He issued a statement to the Daily Standard in regard to his campaign:

"My campaign has a plain but profound theme-to make the law triumph. Within this simple idea is found the majesty and the durability of our democratic nation.

"It is an echo of the Constitution and Bill of Rights. It is an awesome summing up of the very heart and soul of this nation. It is a reflection of our people's conscience which has welded us together as a nation against all enemies.

"Make the law triumph -- and we need not fear the angry and fear-ridden voices that attack the walls of our city.

"Make the law triumph-and we need not fear the poor - - the people of dark skin - the young who are alienated -- or the old who are troubled -- because we will be dispensing justice to all. We will be raising the sights of every man to the ideals that unite us. We will destroy our enemies with friendship and proclaim to the world once again that America is back in business as the home of free -- men united in a course of action to reach an impossible dream - a dream of full equality for all, dignity for every man and love of the law as our guide and mentor. For the laws of the land are the will of the people and that is what this nation is all about."

Mrs. Shelby Makes Divorce Case Retraction

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) Attorney Granville L. Gamblin filed a statement on behalf of Mrs. Jean Shelby, 26, of Poplar retracting any statements she may have made about her attorney's knowledge of a series of meetings between her and a judge who was handling her divorce case.

The judge, John D. Hasler of St. Louis County Circuit Court, is awaiting trial on a charge of oppression in office in connection with the Zhelby divorce case.

The statement filed today requested that the woman's cross complaint be withdrawn and a divorce granted her husband, Delmar Shelby.

Gamblin said with the filing of the document, he withdrew from the case

Mrs. Shelby, 26, was quoted as saying Gamblin knew about some 10 meetings she had with Hasler, 56, while her case was pending in his court.

Gamblin said today he knew of only one meeting, on Feb. 2, and no others. Hasler withdrew from the case Feb. 7, saying he had become personally involved, though not in a romantic sense. Shelby later produced letters said to be romantic in tone and said to be written by Hasler to Mrs. Shelby.

Mrs. Shelby's notarized statement filed today agreed with Gamblin's contention that he knew of only the Feb. 2 meeting in his office.

The statement was filed in the court of Judge Paul E. Corning, where the divorce case is now assigned.

Shelby's divorce petition alleges adultery.

Four 9 to 10 Years Old Face Murder Charge

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) Judge George A. Bowman Jr. gazed for a moment Monday at the four youngsters, aged 9 and 10, before declaring: "Charge, murder; third degree.'

The Milwaukee County Court judge then ordered psychiatric examinations for the four youngsters and detention in a county children's home until their May 29 trial date.

The court was told the youngsters-a 10-year-old girl, "decided to throw stones" at the home of Theodore Werhun hoping he would "come out of the house so they could get in and take some money

Despite Bowman's use of the SPORT SHIRTS term "murder," the children technically are charged with aggravated battery in a petition filed in court prior to Werhun's death.

The police report which the children "began to throw stones at him. He was struck by throw rocks.

Werhun died Saturday in a hospital, and death "was due to pneumonia and heart failure caused by being hospitalized for the leg fracture," Bowman read. "I don't know the answer, Bowman said later. "but I think this community, the parents of this community, better wake up to the responsibility of children. Maybe the death of an 86-yearold man will send out a message this court could never

During the hearing, social workers offered sketches of the youngsters' backgrounds. "The family life they had was in the street. That's where their real family is," one said.

'Hell, no, we won't go. Hershey, director of the U.S. Selective Service, spoke before a group of 350 Washburn students. The meeting, originally open to the public, was limited to students and faculty members only when the demonstration started.

A question-and-answer session that followed Hershey's talk was repeatedly interrupted by a fire alarm. About 12 of the 50 demonstrators pounded and kicked Hershey's car as he drove away from the building following his appearance.

Although the band of young people - most of them longhaired and wearing sandals - didn't get into the auditorium, some of them appeared at windows just over the speaker's platform. They held up letters to the windows, spelling out to a business convention. It was a long trip and Amos, who did the driving, assured Randy on several occasions that he wasn't the least bit tired. Randy, however, was somewhat less stoic and, wearied from so much riding, decided to take a nap. While he was snoozing, unfortunately, Amos was driven to sleep by all the driving and the car bounced off the road into an embankment.

When the car finally stopped bouncing, Randy sued Amos for "Driving while dozing was pure carelessness." Randy told the

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you deny payment to Randy for his injuries because he went to sleep?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that when a person falls asleep while driving an automobile and has an accident his passenger may be deemed guilty of contributory negligence so as to bar recovery for his injuries when he sleeps knowing that the driver, because of the lateness of the hour or the length of the trip, is also apt to sleep at the wheel.

Dr. James Q. Simmons, Jr., director of medical programs of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, answers your questions on multiple sclerosis.

What is known about multiple sclero-

Multiple sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system. Called the great crippler of young adults, it attacks the substance which sheathes fibers causing nerve messages controlling movement, vision, speech and balance to be distorted, often blocked.

Whom does MS strike? MS strikes most often at young adults in the 20 to 40 age range, during the years when they should be most vital, most productive. An estimated 500,000 Americans suffer from MS and related diseases. O Does MS lead to total physical disability?

Though MS can be progressive, often leading to total disability, with proper medical supervision, most MS patients continue to be active, vital people.

Is there a cure for MS at the present time?

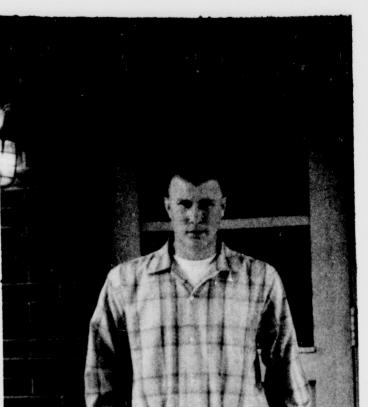

There is no specific known medical management which alters the natural unpredictable course of the disease which is one of worsening, followed by periods of improvement achieving a plateau where no change takes place. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society recommends good general medical care devoted to the prevention of intercurrent infectious illness and directed toward the control of the more distressing symptoms as

With crime in the U.S. at its present level, another form of overlooked robbery takes place daily. Millions of our people are daily robbed of their pride of accomplishment, incentive, self-respect and freedom of attainment by bureaucrats who richly prosper while fostering doles and something-for-nothing programs. Freedom is always lost when dependence is upon dictatorial bureaucratic largesse.

Mrs. Shelby Makes Divorce Case Retraction

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) Attorney Granville L. Gamblin filed a statement on behalf of Mrs. Jean Shelby, 26, of Poplar retracting any statements she may have made about her attorney's knowledge of a series of meetings between her and a judge who was handling her divorce case.

The judge, John D. Hasler of St. Louis County Circuit Court, is awaiting trial on a charge of connection with the Zhelby divorce case.

The statement filed today requested that the woman's cross complaint be withdrawn and a divorce granted her husband, Delmar Shelby.

Gamblin said with the filing of the document, he withdrew from the case.

Mrs. Shelby, 26, was quoted as saying Gamblin knew about some 10 meetings she had with Hasler, 56, while her case was pending in his court.

Gamblin said today he knew of only one meeting, on Feb. 2, and no others.

Hasler withdrew from the case Feb. 7, saying he had become personally involved, though not in a romantic sense Shelby later produced letters said to be romantic in tone and said to be written by Hasler to Mrs. Shelby. Mrs. Shelby's notarized statement filed today agreed with Gamblin's contention that he knew of only the Feb. 2 meeting in his office. The statement was filed in the court of Judge Paul E. Corning, where the divorce case is now assigned. Shelby's divorce petition alleges adultery.

Draft Resisters Badger Hershey

TOPEKA (AP) - Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey was met by a small group of anti-war demonstrators Monday at Washburn University shouting "Hell, no, we won't go."

Hershey, director of the U.S. Selective Service, spoke before a group of 350 Washburn students. The meeting, originally open to the public, was limited to students and faculty members only when the demonstration started. A question-and-answer session that followed Hershey's talk was repeatedly interrupted by a fire alarm. About 12 of the 50 demonstrators pounded and kicked Hershey's car as he drove away from the building following his appearance.

Although the band of young people - most of them longhaired and wearing sandals didn't get into the auditorium, some of them appeared at windows just over the speaker's platform. They held up letters to the windows, spelling out

If You Were the Judge

Sleeping Passenger At Fault in Accident

By Jack Strauss, LL. B. Amos and Randy decided to car it together across the country to a business convention. It was a long trip and Amos, who did the driving, assured Randy on several occasions that he wasn't the least bit tired. Randy, however, was somewhat less stoic and, wearied from so much riding, decided to take a nap. While he was snoozing, unfortunately, Amos was driven to sleep by all the driving and the car bounced off the road into an embankment.

When the car finally stopped bouncing, Randy sued Amos for his injuries. 'Driving while dozing was pure carelessness." Randy told the judge. "Falling asleep at the wheel is the last thing a person should to make sure I stayed awake. Therefore, he's not entitled to collect a nickel for his injuries. IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you deny payment to Randy for his injuries because he went to sleep? This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that when person falls asleep while driving an automobile and has an accident. his passenger may be deemed guilty of contributory negligence so as to bar recovery for his injuries when he sleeps knowing that the driver, because of the lateness of the hour or the length of the trip, is also apt to sleep at the wheel. (Based upon a 1967 Oklahoma Supreme Court Decision.)

COMMUNITY HEALTH FORUM

Dr. James Q. Simmons, Jr., director of medical programs of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, answers your questions on multiple sclerosis.

Q What is known about multiple sclero-

Multiple sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system. Called the great crippler of young adults, it attacks the substance which sheathes nerve fibers causing nerve messages controlling movement, vision, speech and balance to be distorted, often blocked. Whom does MS strike?

MS strikes most often at young adults in the 20 to 40 age range, during the years when they should be most vital, most productive. An estimated 500,000 Americans suffer from MS and related diseases.

Q Does MS lead to total physical disability?

Though MS can be progressive, often leading to total disability, with proper medical supervision, most MS patients continue to be active, vital people.

Is there a cure for MS at the present time?

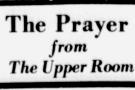

There is no specific known medical management which alters the natural unpredictable course of the disease which is one of worsening, followed by periods of improvement achieving a plateau where no change takes place. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society recommends good general medical care devoted to the prevention of intercurrent infectious illness and directed toward the control of the more distressing symptoms as
